

It was built by sultan Vagiazit the Second in 1499 across the castle of Antirrio, to control the passage from the sea, from the Ionian Sea to the Korinthian Bay, which was called “kioutsouk Tsanak Kale”, i.e. "Mikra Dardanellia".

In 1532 it was occupied by the Spaniards and Andrea Doria,

Tuesday - Sunday 8:30-15:00